

Meet the people behind the technology.

Veronique Steukers
Global Advocacy Manager
Brussels, Belgium

Dr. Veronique Steukers serves as Global Advocacy Manager for Albemarle. Before this appointment, Dr. Veronique led the advocacy program in Europe and recently expanded her responsibilities to leading advocacy efforts in China.

Her role includes engagement with downstream customers and environmental groups on critical regulatory and sustainability issues facing Polymer Chemicals business, including the introduction of our new environmentally-friendly Earthwise™ line of products.

Prior to joining Albemarle, Dr. Steukers worked for Umicore, a major non-ferrous metals company with headquarters in Belgium, where she held different responsibilities within the HSE Department.

Dr. Steukers received her chemistry degree from the Faculté Notre Dame de la Paix in Namur, Belgium and her Ph.D. in chemistry from Exeter University in the UK. She also conducted a post doctorate at DSM in 1994.