Brian Carter

Global Business Director, Flame Retardants

Mr. Carter was appointed Global Business Director for Albemarle's Brominated Flame Retardants organization in July 2009. In that role, he is responsible for the group's strategic business and marketing activities, including the launch of GreenArmor™, the group's new eco-friendly fire safety solution.

In his 16 year career with Albemarle, Mr. Carter has held a number of key positions within the company's diverse business groups. Prior to his current role, he managed the location selection process for Albemarle's global center of excellence for transactional processes in Budapest, Hungary. This center will consolidate transactions across Europe and in some essences across the globe.

Mr. Carter joined Albermarle in 1994, starting out in the company's manufacturing organization and has held various leadership and product management positions at Albemarle.

Mr. Carter holds a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology and is located at the company's headquarters in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.
